Market outlook

Stock market: VN-Index struggled around the 1,200 threshold all day today before closing at 1,202.5 points, up nearly 4 points compared to the previous session. Market breadth tilted to the positive side with 12/18 sectors gaining points, of which the Communications, Basic Resources, and Oil and Gas were the most positive today. Regarding foreign transactions, today they were net sellers on both HSX and HNX. The increasing momentum of VN-Index remains stable despite weak liquidity compared to the previous period. At the psychological threshold of 1,200 today, there was a fairly balanced tug-of-war between sellers and buyers. This tug-of-war may last in a few sessions due to profit-taking pressure.

Futures contracts: Future contracts increase following the movement of VN30. It is recommended that investors trade cautiously during the session.

Covered warrants: In the trading session on February 15, 2024, covered warrants fluctuated along with the increasing of the underlying stocks.
